

Luxury bar soaps by Linari: the different scents

Scent "Notte Bianca"

Exciting and infatuating like a sleepless night. A delightful interaction of delicate fruity accents of pink grapefruit, fresh bergamot and Italian orange combine with the vitalising spicy notes of star anise, elixir of absinth, clove, sage and the finest cashmere wood. Accords of Haitian vetiver and tonka bean provide a seductive sensual character to the base note, highlighted by white musk and amber. The perfumer: Mark Buxton

Scent "Vista sul Mare"

Irresistible, like the view over an endless blue ocean, the joining of the fresh citrus notes of Calabrian bergamot, pink grapefruit, lemon and Italian tangerine with a cool ozonic accord, ingeniously surrounded by a spicy-floral bouquet of red pepper, cloves, lily of the valley and wild roses. White musk and seductive amber merge with natural cedar and hints of patchouli to create a sensual, elegant base note. The perfumer: Egon Oelkers

Scent "Acqua Santa"

Clean and innocent like crystal-clear holy water, blithe fruity notes of Sicilian bergamot and cassis with irresistibly warm and spicy accords of coriander, Javanese patchouli and green leaves that are captively surrounded by a floral bouquet of finest rose petals, wild jasmine, precious ylang-ylang, cyclamen and lily of the valley with its sensual feminine touch. Aspects of sweet caramel intertwine with musk, tonka bean and delicate cedarwood to emphasise its warm dressing and seductively sensual base. The perfumer: Maurice Roucel

Scent "Angelo di Fiume"

As ethereal and sensual as an angel. A gourmet of opulent, fruity notes of wild cherries, raspberries, Italian orange and bergamot merge with floral accords of ylang ylang, rose leaves and jasmine, rounded off with sweet caramel. The complex base note seduces with Madagascan vanilla whilst smooth accents of finest sandalwood and Siamese benjoin resin are subtly flattered by white musk and patchouli. The perfumer: Mark Buxton

Scent "Eleganza Luminosa"

The enticing freshness of sun-ripened bergamot, luscious lemon and lively orange contrasts appealingly with the lavish floweriness of finest rose oil, tantalizing jasmine, yellow freesia, powdery iris and lily of the valley. Warm woody notes of cedar and sandal merge with the sensual accord of white musk, whilst Javan patchouli and amber radiate to emphasise the long-lasting, timeless elegance. The perfumer: Egon Oelkers

Scent "Porta del Cielo"

A celestial interaction of opulent fruity notes of sun-ripened Calabrian bergamot, juicy pineapple and crispy raspberry merge with floral accords of delicate freesia and aromatic Indian davana oil. Gentle aspects of Australian sandalwood and finest cashmere wood surround the captivating floral heart note of lily of the valley, vibrant violet and Tunisian orange blossom. The distinctive powdery base notes of white musk, vanilla and enchanting Venezuelan tonka are flattered by accords of exquisite Siamese benzoin resin and Andalusian labdanum. The perfumer: Mark Buxton

Scent "Fuoco Infernale"

A likewise multifarious and infatuating composition of tangy carnation and herbaceous-earthy aspects of natural myrtle, wild marjoram, accords of cinnamon bark, and birch and labdanum resin. Sweet-spicy olibanum and tonka bean provide the rich and opulent character of the heart note. The distinctive elements of the leathery base are accompanied by the combination of Burma-Gurjun resin and exquisite Atlas-cedarwood. White musk and grey amber round the composition off with depth and warmth. The perfumer: Egon Oelkers